Durable Construction

Key-Link aluminum is light and flexible for easy installation, but it's strong and built to handle extreme temperatures as well as withstand heat, snow, and rain. A full-length vinyl liner prevents metal-on-metal rattling, and every piece of our aluminum railing is tested to ICC standards.

Low-Maintenance Aluminum

Key-Link aluminum railing is built to last and goes through a rigorous coating process to ensure that it won't seriously fade. Unlike steel, wrought iron or wood, aluminum doesn't require regular painting to prevent rusting or rotting.

Versatile Design

With so many balusters, colors, trim, and accessories to choose from, the final product really is one-of-a-kind. The American Series gives customers the ability to match their railing to their surroundings and taste, without having to choose between the railing they want and the railing they can afford.
